"Great interior design should reflect who you are and showcase your personal style in a better way than you ever thought possible."

Interior design might be one of the most important factors when it comes to being happy in your home. It certainly doesn't hurt your resale value either. Hiring the right designer is a difficult decision that can change the way you live, literally, in your space. Chelsea started designing custom Barbie furniture at the age of six and has come a long way since then. When she is not working on the set of HGTV's Property Brothers or traveling between her offices in Atlanta and Sarasota, she is working with small businesses and homeowners to turn their personal vision into a reality. Great design should be personal, classic and function for your lifestyle. Working with a designer can be the key to getting some great deals, too. Sometimes it's about knowing where to go and which contractors are going to give you the best end result. The best clients know what they want and have great style. They just don't have the time or resources to pull it all together, so they rely on Chelsea to make that happen for them.
